Zones Planned

As outlined for the meeting last night, commercial properties on seven blocks surrounding the proposed parking area would be classified into five zones of benefit and individually assessed at "roughly" from $161, for the Hing Lee Laundry at 108 Pearl, to $2,164, for a large building housing a department store and offices at 19 N. Washington. The assessments would be spread over a 5 or 10-year period.

Opposition came last night from several property owners
